Announces

Gifted Mathematician Wins Bursary

Marie-Ange Janvier is the recipient of the Black Canadian Scholarship Fund award of a non-renewable Bursary for 1999 – 2000. The criterion for this award consists of academic achievement, financial need, and particularly leadership.

Marie-Ange Janvier was selected from a group of seventeen outstanding candidates. She is a regular on the Honour Roll of the Collège Catholique Samuel-Genest, excelling in the sciences as well as possessing an extra-ordinary talent in Mathematics.

Marie-Ange shows an appreciation for her culture by becoming a member of the planning committee for Black History Month and by specifically organizing and presenting the history of Rap. She also participated in performances with the dance group "Afro-steps" in several schools.

Marie-Ange Janvier is a member of a single parent family, supplements the family income with a job at McDonalds, and finds time to tutor students in her community who experience academic difficulties. She volunteered as a nursing aid at two hospitals, and manages to keep fit at an athletic club.

About the Black Canadian Scholarship Fund, Marie-Ange comments:

"It represents the support, pride, honour and hope which the Black Community places in these remarkable students."

(translated from the original French)

The Black Canadian Scholarship Fund is proud to present this bursary to a talented young woman, and to be parts of giving Marie-Ange Janvier the opportunity to make her dream of becoming an electrical engineer come true!

We gratefully acknowledge the support of all donors for the Black Canadian Scholarship Fund.
